2. On July 14, 1989, the Board entered an order which in part directed Respondent to pay an administrative penalty of $2,000.00 and submit five projects to the Board for assurance that Respondent was not engaged in areas of practice which were prohibited by the Board's order.

3. Respondent was directed to make the first installment payment of that administrative penalty within 30 days from the date the Board's order became effective. Respondent, therefore, was required to submit a payment of $500.00 to the Board no later than approximately August 16, 1989. Respondent did not submit a Request for Rehearing and did not obtain a stay of the Board's order from any court. The Board's order, therefore, became a final order with which Respondent was therefore required to comply.

4. As of April 1990, the initial installment due from Respondent was not paid and the Board, thereafter, initiated a complaint against Respondent for the failure to pay the first installment of the civil penalty and for the failure to present any cases to the Board, hearing on which was set for May 17, 1990.

5. As of the date of hearing May 17, 1990, Respondent has not made any payments to the Board in accordance with the Board's order. As of May 17, 1990, Respondent had not presented any projects to the Board.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. This matter is within the jurisdiction of the Arizona State Board of Technical Registration Pursuant to A.R.S. § 32-101 et. seq., and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

2. Respondent's failure to comply with the terms of a final Board order constitutes a violation of A.R.S. § 32-150 and therefore subjects Respondent to suspension or revocation of his registration.

ORDER

JAMES R. ABNEY architectural license #04852 shall be suspended for a period of three years effective the date of this order or until such time Respondent complies with the Board's previous order to pay an administrative penalty of $2,000.00. Should Respondent fail to pay the administrative penalty within the three years allotted, Respondent's license shall be revoked.

JAMES R. ABNEY Shall discontinue practice in electrical, mechanical and structural engineering until such time as he demonstrates through examination and registration his qualifications as a professional engineer.

JAMES R. ABNEY shall upon reinstatement of his license undergo probation and peer review for a period of five years from the date of selection of a peer reviewer. Peer review shall consist of a review of five projects per year to insure compliance with the Board's order regarding discontinuance in the specified branches of engineering. Should the Respondent fail to complete the requirements of this order, Respondent's license shall be revoked.

MEMORANDUM

DATE: May 25, 1995

TO: Arizona State Board of Technical Registration

FROM: Frank S. Turek

SUBJECT: Registration without examination based on current California Geology Examinations.

An Arizona resident has requested a reconsideration of his application for registration without examination. The applicant elected to become registered in California because a majority of his work was in California rather than in Arizona. The candidate took the examination in California after the January 1, 1994 date established by the SBTR as when the California test was no longer substantially equivalent to the Arizona exam. This is when California began using a new examination. The reason the SBTR took this action is because California would not provide Arizona with a copy of the California examinations for evaluation to determine if the examinations are or are not equivalent.

While I do understand the applicants position, I feel the SBTR cannot grant registration without examination in this case because we would be in violation of ARS 32-126. We can do any one of the following to resolve this issue:

1. Request and receive copies of the California examinations to review in Arizona.
2. Authorize travel to California to review the examinations at a site they designate.
3. Review our previous decision stating the new California examinations are not known to be substantially equivalent and now vote to allow for registration without examination by stating we now feel the examinations are equivalent. This reverses our initial opinion.
4. Have an Attorney General's opinion that we can grant an exception for this Arizona registrant.

If we do any of the above, we must have staff review the Geology applications processed since January 1994 and rejected on the grounds the California tests were not equivalent. These must now be granted.

GEOLOGIST EXAMINATION INFORMATION

The Geologist Examination is designed to test the applicant's geologic knowledge and experience, together with professional judgment, associated with geologic problems and situations, and to demonstrate capability to assume responsible charge of professional geologic practice. The examination will be directed towards the practical applications as well as theoretical considerations of geology.

The examination is composed of two parts. Part A contains multiple-choice questions and is weighted 50%. Part B is composed of problem-type questions of which the applicant must complete two mandatory questions and four optional questions. This part is weighted 50%. Applicants are allowed three hours to complete Part A and four hours to complete Part B. A Table of Natural Trigonometric Functions and a Table of General Conversion Factors are provided in the examination for the applicant's convenience.

Attached is a list of general subjects which may appear in the examination. The subjects in Part A and B are NEWLY proportioned according to a validation study using an extensive occupational analysis, numerous subject matter experts and professional psychometric analysis of data. Not all subjects will be covered in every examination, nor will the board adhere rigorously to the percentages indicated, but the content of the examination will in a general way follow the examination specifications listed on the following pages. Some questions on the examination could be listed under any one of several subjects.

1. Depositional Systems and Sedimentary Petrology
2. Mineralogy

3. CALIFORNIA GEOLOGY (50%)

1. California Geology
 - a. Geologic Structural Framework
 - b. Geology, Including Geological and Physiographic Provinces
 - c. Geological History, Including Historical Seismicity
 - d. Mineral Resources

Approximately 75% of the Part B questions on the examination will be on the above subjects. Some questions may be on other subjects.

Percentage indicated is an approximation of multiple-choice questions. Sub-topics listed may not be covered by every examination. Percentages and subjects may vary in each examination.

GEOLOGIST EXAMINATION SPECIFICATIONS
PART A

Part A contains multiple choice questions and is weighted 50%. Applicant is allowed three hours to complete this part of the examination.

A. FUNDAMENTAL GEOLOGY (70%)*

1. Environmental and Hydrogeology
 - a. Organic and Inorganic Chemistry
 - b. Principles of Geochemistry
 - c. Hazardous Substances and Contaminants
 - d. Groundwater Chemistry
 - e. Hydrogeology
 - f. Groundwater and Contaminant Movement Through Geologic Materials
2. Geotechnical and Quaternary Geology
 - a. Quaternary Geology
 - b. Soil and Rock Types
 - c. Geotechnical Properties of Rocks and Soils
 - d. Geomorphology
 - e. Landslides
 - f. Faults and Seismicity
3. Geophysics and Petroleum Geology
 - a. Geophysics
 - b. Paleontology
 - c. Mineral Resources, Including Oil and Gas
 - d. Remote Sensing
 - e. Marine Geology and Coastal Processes
4. Stratigraphy and Structural Geology
 - a. Stratigraphic Principles and Mapping Techniques
 - b. Structural Geology
 - c. Depositional Systems and Sedimentary Petrology
 - d. Mineralogy

B. CALIFORNIA GEOLOGY (10%)*

1. California Geology
 - a. Geologic Structural Framework
 - b. Geology, Including Geological and Physiographic Provinces
 - c. Geological History, Including Historical Seismicity
 - d. Mineral Resources

(NOTE: Approximately 75% of the Part A questions on the examination, not including the aforementioned 10%, focus on geological concepts relevant to California geology.)

* Percentage indicated is an approximation of multiple-choice questions. Sub-topics listed may not be covered in every examination. Percentages and subjects may vary in each examination.

C. INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUES AND PROCEDURES (10%)*

176

1. Field Mapping and Petrology Techniques
 - a. Field Mapping Techniques
 - b. Age-Dating Methods For Soil and Rock
 - c. Petrographic Methods
2. Geophysical Methods
 - a. Geophysical Logs (e.g., Electric Logs, Neutron Logs, Porosity Logs, Sonic Logs, etc.)
 - b. Geophysical Methods (e.g., Seismic Refraction, Resistivity, Gravity Methods, Magnetic Methods, Electrical Methods, Electromagnetic Methods, etc.)
 - c. Geochemical Analysis Methods
3. Trenches, Wells and Safety
 - a. Drilling and Trenching Methods (e.g., Rock Coring, Hollow-Stem Augers, Air or Mud Rotary, Backhoes, Bulldozers, Scrapers, etc.)
 - b. Aquifer Testing Techniques (e.g., Draw Down, Single Well, Multiple Well, etc.)
 - c. Safety Standards Applicable to Geologic Field Investigations and Mine Examinations

D. LEGAL/REGULATORY (10%)*

1. Environmental and Safety Regulations
 - a. Hazardous Waste Regulations
 - b. Health and Safety Precautions at Contaminated Sites
 - c. Safety Precautions and Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) Regulations Regarding Subsurface Investigative Work (e.g., Drilling, Trenching, etc.)
 - d. Regulations for Disposal of Contaminated Water and Soils
2. Land Use and Registered Geologist Responsibilities
 - a. Registered Geologist's "Responsible Charge of Work"
 - b. Laws Regarding Geologic Hazards (i.e., Landslide Development, Alquist-Priolo Zoning, Siting Considerations for Waste Disposal Facilities, etc.)
 - c. Uniform Building Code (UBC) and Related Grading Ordinances
 - d. Laws and Regulations Regarding the Conservation of Petroleum and Gas

* Percentage indicated is an approximation of multiple-choice questions. Sub-topics listed may not be covered in every examination. Percentages and subjects may vary in each examination.

REV. 6/93

PART B

Part B contains problem-type questions of which the applicant must complete two mandatory questions and four optional questions. Applicant is allowed four hours to complete this part of the examination.

A. INTERPRETIVE/ANALYTICAL (100%)

1. Gather and Analyze Geologic Data/Maps
 - a. Organize and Carry-Out Independent Geologic Studies
 - b. Gather and Generate Appropriate and Relevant Geologic Data
 - c. Perform a Literature Search
 - d. Plot and Tabulate Data
 - e. Interpret Geological Maps and Cross Sections
 - f. Prepare and Interpret Contour and Isopach Maps
 - g. Apply Geologic Reasoning and Judgment to Geologic Problems

2. Perform Field Investigations and Mapping
 - a. Perform Geologic Field Investigations, Including Ability to Make Field Observations, Collect Field Data, Make Appropriate Field Notes of Observations, and Make Appropriate Interpretations of Field Observations or Investigations
 - b. Describe Rock and Soil Samples
 - c. Make Geologic Interpretations From Borehole and Trench Logs
 - d. Field Mapping and Aerial Photo Interpretation
 - e. Produce Geological Maps
 - f. Visualize Geologic Features in Three Dimensions
 - g. Use Surveying Equipment (Brunton Compass, Plane-Table Alidade, Transit and Electronic Survey Equipment)
 - h. Improvise or Develop Methods to Collect Data
 - i. Synthesize Information in the Field

3. Data Interpretation and Design
 - a. Conduct a Pumping Test and Interpret Pumping Test Data
 - b. Design Production, Extraction, and Monitoring Wells
 - c. Determine Porosity of Geologic Materials
 - d. Make and Interpret Appropriate Calculations Relating to Geologic Data (Includes Basic Knowledge of Statistics, Algebra and Geometry)
 - e. Use Computers and Common Software Packages for Data Analysis, Report Preparation, and Bibliographic Searches of Geologic Data Bases (e.g., GeoRef)

Note: Sub-topics listed may vary and may not be covered in every examination.

Re: Application for Registration by Comity for Timothy P. Leo
File No. 950217

Dear Ms. Douglas:

On February 17, 1995, I submitted an application to the Board for registration as a geologist by comity. Subsequently, I received a letter from the Board dated April 12, 1995, stating that my application is not acceptable for registration by comity because the California exam I passed is not considered substantially identical to the ASBOG exam. With this letter, I am requesting that my application for registration in Arizona by comity be brought before the Board for reconsideration.

I understand that as of January 1, 1994, geologists who obtained registration in California after this date can no longer obtain registration by comity in Arizona. Due to a change in the California registration exam in 1993, the Arizona Board has yet to determine whether the revised exam is substantially identical to the ASBOG exam. The California exam was revised to reflect the changing occupational practices of today's geologists. The original and revised California exams are both comprehensive exams comprised of two parts: a 3-hour, 100 question multiple-choice section; and a 4-hour problem solving section. As indicated in the attached outline, the revised exam encompasses the fundamentals of geology as well as specialties including engineering geology, hydrogeology, economic geology, geophysics, and earthquakes, among others. Based on a review of information provided to examinees over the past several years, the geologic principles covered in the revised 1993 California exam and the original exam are identical.

The State of Arizona has given the ASBOG exam since 1992. Since 1992, I understand that the ASBOG exam has not changed significantly. Prior to January 1, 1994, geologists registered in California were granted registration in Arizona by comity. By this, I assume that prior to January 1, 1994, the California exam was considered substantially identical to the ASBOG exam. Since the geologic principles covered in the California exam did not change significantly after January 1, 1994, it is unclear to me why registration by comity has been eliminated on the grounds that the exams are no longer substantially identical. Please review the scope of revised California exam to reconsider whether it is substantially identical to the ASBOG exam.

I sought registration in California because I am employed by an environmental consulting firm with offices in both Arizona and California. During the past four years, nearly all of my project work has been associated with sites located in California. However, over the past six months, much of my work has shifted from sites in California to sites in Arizona. Work projections indicate that most of my future work will continue to be associated with sites in Arizona. It is therefore important for me to be registered in Arizona and practice under the Board's guidelines. Furthermore, as an Arizona resident for over eight years, it is important to me to be registered in the state where I reside. Registration as a geologist in Arizona may also offer future employment opportunities with companies based in Arizona.

In summary, I am requesting that the Board:

- .. Reconsider my application for registration as a geologist in Arizona by comity at the next Board meeting; and, if necessary,
- .. Review the California exam to determine whether it is substantially identical to the ASBOG exam.

I believe that I have fulfilled all of the requirements to earn registration as a geologist in Arizona including education, professional achievement, recommendations from registered supervisors, and successful completion of the California exam.

If there is any additional information that I can provide to the Board on this matter, please contact me by mail or by phone at (520) 881-7300. If necessary, I would gladly attend a future Board meeting to discuss this matter.

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to hearing from the Board regarding the action items I have identified above.

Sincerely,

HARGIS + ASSOCIATES, INC.

MEMORANDUM

DATE: May 25, 1995

TO: Arizona State Board of Technical Registration
FROM: Frank S. Turek Vice Chair
SUBJECT: Task Analysis Survey

The Task Analysis Survey completed by Drs. Steve and Jack Warner for Arizona and ASBOG was presented in draft form at the May 11 to 13, 1995 ASBOG meeting. The group was instructed that the data was confidential and should not be released until:

- a. The Warners complete their report
- b. Release authorization is granted by both the Arizona SBTR and ASBOG

It is my belief that the national task analysis survey will be accepted by other Boards, education institutions, State Legislatures, and others if it is released or published by ASBOG and not by Arizona. Even though it is based on a survey of registrants from 12 states, publishing it under an Arizona heading could result in it being perceived as a local evaluation. I recommend we adopt the following motion relative to this task analysis survey:

"Arizona grants the National Association of State Boards of Geology (ASBOG) permission to use the results of the 1995 national geologist task analysis survey. All requests for release of the information must be approved by the ASBOG Executive Committee. ASBOG may publish and/or copyright the results of the task analysis survey but must cite the role of Arizona in all such publications. ASBOG will provide the Arizona SBTR a minimum of ten (10) copies of the final report for distribution to the nine SBTR board members and a file copy for the office."

MEMORANDUM

DATE: May 25, 1995

TO: Arizona State Board of Technical Registration
FROM: Frank S. Turek, Vice Chair
SUBJECT: ASBOG Semi Annual Examination Meeting

The National Association of State Boards of Geology (ASBOG) met in Orlando, Florida, on May 11 through 13, 1995 at a semi-annual examination workshop. The meeting began at 8:30 a.m. on May 11, 1995 with introductions of the attendees. The group met until 5:15 p.m. the first day to complete the following tasks.

- Bill Knight of American Institute of Professional Geologists made a presentation on equivalent certification with Ireland and the British. He also suggested AIPG could be the repository for Geologists' records that could then be sent to States to support license applications. No formal action was taken, but most attendees agreed that AIPG is a professional organization and not a registration organization. AIPG is not equal to NCEES and the Council Record. ASBOG will be the proper forum to maintain the equal of a council record, but ASBOG is not in the position now to undertake such a task at present.
- Doctors Jack and Steve Warner made the standard exam scoring presentation so new attendees would understand the process.
- Mr. Turek questioned the ability to regrade questions. The Warners said a regrade to verify the computer scanner reading of the score sheet accurately, can be completed by hand. The exam items (questions) are objective, not subjective. That means you choose the correct answer or it is wrong. There is no partial credit. The accuracy of the question is tested by the author and four experts prior to its use in an exam. After its use, it is again checked by 5 to 8 experts. A regrade to check a question for a candidate would be redundant. ASBOG will develop a policy on this issue.
- The group then split into two teams of six experts to a team. Each team reviewed a separate April 1995 examination, fundamentals and principles and practices. The ASBOG Executive Committee was not assigned to a team and met separately.

The third day began at 8:30 a.m. on May 13, 1995 and continued to 5:00 p.m.

FROM: Frank S. Turek, Vice Chair Page 2

- The Examination Teams:
 1. Reviewed examination items used for the first time on the April 1995 examination.
 2. Discussed the new items to make sure they are clear, have only one correct answer, do not test trivia, test at the appropriate knowledge level - Fundamentals or PPG, and relate to protection of Health, Safety and Welfare for protection of the public.
- Established the Angoff (difficulty) rating for each item.
- Reviewed new items to be used on the September 1995 examination.

The group met as a whole at 8:30 a.m. on May 12, 1995 and worked on assigned tasks until 5:30 p.m.

- John Williams of the California Board suggested including more interpretation questions on the PPG exam. He recommends keeping the multiple choice, machine grading format, but adding exam items using figures to require interpretation.
- The next part of the morning dealt with the Task Analysis Survey completed by Arizona and ASBOG. The first question presented was about release of the information. My position representing Arizona is that I am but 1 of 9 on the SBTR. I said we would discuss it at our next meeting, but until then the group should treat the Task Analysis Survey as Confidential and maintain the same security given to test questions.
- Registration lists in AZ, CA, FL, GA, IN, KY, NC, OR, SC, VI, WI, and WY, 12 states were used as the seed and task analysis survey forms were sent to 200 registrants from each state.
- Forms were mailed by ASBOG in January and February 1995.
- There were 2,296 mailed and 1,220 or 53% were returned. The lower number mailed (not 2,400) is due to the low number of total registrants in Wisconsin.
- The group spent the morning evaluating the results of the task analysis survey and began the process of preparing a blue print for the April 1996 exams using the data.
- The group again divided into the Executive Committee, a team to focus on rating and evaluating tasks in detail, and an exam item writing team. Work continued on these teams to the end of the day.

The third day began at 8:30 a.m. on May 13, 1995 and continued to 5:00 p.m.

The morning started with a presentation by Mr. Ron Baugh from Wyoming, the 1995 President of ASBOG. He reported:

- ASBOG has a contract from Pennsylvania to use the ASBOG exams in September 1995.
- Missouri is planning to use the ASBOG exams in April 1996.
- Wisconsin is working to use the exams as soon as possible.
- The examinations were given in April 1995 to candidates in AZ, NC, SC, KY, and WY.
- The September 1995 examinations will be given in AZ, NC, SC, KY, WY, WI, OR, GA, and PA. That is 9 of the 20 states with licensure laws.
- Texas has a geologist registration act that passed the House and is now in the Senate, where it is felt it should pass.
- Alabama, Minnesota and Illinois are all very close to having geologist registration legislation passed this year.

The group worked for the morning finalizing the Fundamentals and PPG test blueprints based on the task analysis survey.

The afternoon was spent developing new test items.

The purpose of the hearing was to hear appellant's appeal from the Board's refusal to grant appellant's request for registration without examination for an engineer's registration. Appellant was present in person and was represented by Gary Sheets, Attorney at Law. The Board was represented by Willow-Fawn Kemp, Assistant Attorney General.

Having heard the testimony of the witnesses, having read and considered the exhibits offered by the parties and admitted into evidence, having considered the arguments of the parties and being fully advised in the premises, the undersigned hearing officer now submits the following findings of fact, conclusions of law and recommendation to the Arizona State Board of Technical Registration.

Appellant represented that he was a structural engineer, that he was registered in the State of Rhode Island in 1980

This matter came on for hearing on June 20, 1995 in Phoenix, Arizona. The purpose of the hearing was to hear appellant's appeal from the Board's refusal to grant appellant's request for registration without examination for an engineer's registration. Appellant was present in person and was represented by Gary Sheets, Attorney at Law. The Board was represented by Willow-Fawn Kemp, Assistant Attorney General.

Having heard the testimony of the witnesses, having read and considered the exhibits offered by the parties and admitted into evidence, having considered the arguments of the parties and being fully advised in the premises, the undersigned hearing officer now submits the following findings of fact, conclusions of law and recommendation to the Arizona State Board of Technical Registration.

engineers to demonstrate proficiency in lateral forces as well as other facets of structural engineering and applicants for registration who are examined for

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On September 13, 1994, appellant submitted an application for registration to the Board in order to be registered as an engineer in the State of Arizona. Appellant represented that he was a structural engineer, that he was registered in the State of Rhode Island in 1980 by examination and he listed his employment history in engineering to include self employment in Rhode Island between January 1986 and August 1994, together with other employment in the field of engineering since obtaining his registration in 1980.

2. Under Arizona law, engineers are registered by branch of which sixteen are recognized in this State. A structural engineer is defined as one who engages in "consultation, investigation, evaluation, planning, design, location, development and review of construction for force-resisting and load-bearing members and their connections for structures such as foundations, walls, columns, slabs, beams, trusses or similar members used singly or as part of a larger structure" (A.A.C. R4-30-221 A. (16)).

3. The Board has adopted a policy requiring structural engineers to demonstrate proficiency in lateral forces as well as other facets of structural engineering and applicants for registration who are examined for registration are required to take and successfully pass an eight hour examination in lateral forces before being allowed to be registered as a structural engineer.

4. Additional information showed that appellant was registered in the States of Connecticut in 1980, Massachusetts in 1984, Maine in 1987, New Hampshire in 1987, New York in 1993 and Pennsylvania in 1993, all by reciprocity. The Massachusetts registration denotes "structural engineer" and all of the other registrations do not indicate a proficiency.

5. Appellant also submitted references showing his prior work experience as an engineer.

6. Appellant's application was reviewed and a recommendation was made to withhold registration for him until he could complete an eight hour examination on lateral forces analysis and design.

7. Appellant received notification of the Board's decision not to register him without examination and he asked that the Board re-evaluate his application.

8. On December 21, 1994, appellant was advised that the Evaluation Committee re-evaluated his application and had denied his request for registration without examination. In the letter written to him, the Board wrote that, for registration as a structural engineer, applicants must take and pass the EIT exam plus 16 hours of examination, part of which emphasizes lateral design and that appellant had only taken 8 hours of examination plus the EIT exam.

9. On January 17, 1995, appellant, through his attorney, asked that the Board register him without examination "due to his substantial experience in the structural engineering field".

10. On February 15, 1995, the Board reviewed appellant's request for registration without examination and his request was denied.

11. Appellant filed an appeal from that decision and a hearing was then set for June 20, 1995.

12. During the period of time within which appellant's application for registration without examination was pending before the Board, the Board had in effect a regulation, A.A.C. R4-30-224 E., requiring that "any engineer receiving a certificate of registration after December 31, 1990 who designs columns, beams, trusses or similar structural members used singly or as part of a larger structure shall have taken and passed the structural engineering examination administered by the Board". That regulation was repealed sometime prior to appellant's hearing on June 20.

5. Appellant does not qualify for registration without examination under ARS. 532-126 A. (3) as he does not have

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. This matter is within the jurisdiction of the Board of Technical Registration pursuant to ARS, §32-101 and the regulations promulgated thereunder as appellant has submitted an application for registration by the Board.

2. Pursuant to ARS, §32-126 A. (3), the Board may register without examination an applicant who satisfies the requirement of having been "actively engaged as a professional registrant in another state or foreign country in the profession in which registration is sought for at least ten years".

3. For purposes of determining whether to register engineers without examination pursuant to ARS, §32-126 A. (3), "in the profession" means the branch of engineering for which the applicant seeks registration since reciprocal registration under said statute is elective, not mandatory.

4. At the time of application, appellant had eight years of being actively engaged as a professional registrant in structural engineering in states other than Arizona, as structural engineering is defined in A.A.C. R4-30-221 A. (16).

5. Appellant does not qualify for registration without examination under ARS, §32-126 A. (3) as he does not have ten years of being actively engaged in structural engineering in another state.

6. At this time, in order to become registered in the state of Arizona, appellant must take and successfully complete the Board administered structural engineering examination.

RECOMMENDATION

It is the recommendation of the undersigned hearing officer that appellant's appeal be denied and that the Board's refusal to register appellant without examination be sustained.

Appellant argues that his representations of having been actively engaged as a structural engineer since 1980 should be accepted by the Board and, since he is registered in seven states, the State of Arizona should recognize his credentials and register him without examination. Appellant also suggests that, in interpreting the provisions of ARS, §32-126 A. (3), the use of the term "in the profession" must be read as merely meaning an engineer, of whatever branch, in determining experience. Appellant further asserts that the Board is attempting to enforce a repealed regulation to support its decision to deny appellant's registration.

While your undersigned agrees that any attempt to deny appellant's registration by exercising the provisions of A.A.C. R4-30-224 E. would be an irredentist application of a repealed rule. Without regard to such a rule, however, appellant is required to demonstrate ten years of experience in the branch of structural engineering and not show merely any engineering registration.

The provisions of ARS, §32-126 A. (3) are not mandatory since the statute uses the term "may register" to describe the circumstances under which a registration without examination can be granted. Since the manifest purpose of the reciprocity statute is to provide that ten years of experience constitutes a substitute for examination, the Board must assure itself that the candidate has the requisite experience to demonstrate qualifications for registration.

In the engineering discipline, sixteen separate branches are identified for which separate registration is granted in Arizona. To assure itself that the candidate's experience should substitute for examination, the Board must be sure that the applicant's experience is in the branch for which the applicant is seeking registration in order to make the statute meaningful. For these reasons, "in the profession" can only mean that appellant has been actively engaged in structural engineering in order to apply the reciprocity statute. Furthermore, since the Board mandates a separate lateral force design and analysis examination for structural engineers, appellant must show that his ten year experience includes the criteria sought by such examination in order to demonstrate substitution for the examination requirement.

When examining appellant's experience, there is no doubt but that appellant has been "actively engaged" in structural engineering since January 1986 when he started his own firm in Rhode Island. His resume adequately describes the critical elements of his work that fall within the ambit of the definition of structural engineer. In his application, appellant wrote:

"Consulting engineer specializing in the design of structural framing systems and foundations for low to mid-rise buildings including commercial, industrial, and multi-unit residential projects. Clients included local architects, contractors and AISC certified steel fabricators. I have also done engineering reports and feasibility studies for owners, and have also provided expert testimony on behalf of clients involved in court actions.

My work with fabricators involved the engineering and design of special connections, crane systems, and miscellaneous iron work on projects designed by others. A major portion of my work has been the design of braced steel frames, utilizing bar joists and metal deck, or composite beams/deck. Many projects had masonry bearing/shear walls. I have designed all building components, including beams, columns, base plates, as well as secondary structural members such as girts and purlins; and the primary bracing or lateral force resisting systems (italics mine). Lateral load analyses have been done in accordance with BOCA, UBC, and ANSI A58.1-82, and other standards (italics mine). Design snow loads in the N.Y./New England area ranged from 25 psf to 90 psf excluding drifting snow. Basic wind speed for determining velocity pressures ranged from 80 mph to 100 mph. Seismic analysis was performed in accordance with BOCA provisions for Zones 1, 2 & 3 as designated by local officials (italics mine). I have also designed the concrete foundations and site walls for many of the projects. In addition, I have designed a number of wood framed projects, including heavy timber, and the modification of same.

As Principal of the firm, I have been involved in the planning, conceptual design, and actual design of buildings, foundations and all components. Supervised and reviewed the work of one associate engineer, a junior engineer, and one draftsman.

In distinction to that experience, however, appellant's prior work in the profession of engineering has been less than adequate to describe the lateral force analysis and design qualities required for a structural engineer. From April 1984 through January 1986, appellant described his duties as:

Senior Project Engineer: Contract Administrator for large scale condominium projects, including a $6 million historic rehab project, and a $4.2 million design-build luxury condo project. Responsible for estimating, purchasing and scheduling, billings, A/E and client relations...Specific engineering work personally performed as follows: Historic Rehab Project - A seventy unit facility with retail and office space on the first floor, constructed within a 19th century mill/foundry. Handled purchasing, change orders, subcontracts, billings, etc.

associated with the job. Worked with A/E of record to devise alternative solutions to problems encountered in renovation work. Devised methods of shoring existing construction for new openings, elevators, etc. Approved shop drawings for new steel framing and all architectural, electrical and mechanical components...

Luxury Condo Project - Worked with A/E to develop cost effective design for a 36 unit housing project, which met the client's budget. The building contained three stories of residential units over a one story parking garage. Worked with engineer to develop foundation design and details, and coordinated the work of other design-build subcontractors with the architectural and structural plans...

P e r s o n a l l e v e l o f responsibility/authority: Projects were assigned to each manager by V.P.- to whom I reported. Responsible for all aspects of a project, including purchasing, scheduling, change orders, A/E and client relations, supervision of field personnel, etc. Rehab project had superintendent and up to 40 employees.

Appellant's experience between January 1980 to April 1984 is even further attenuated as a structural engineer since appellant described his duties as estimating, scheduling and purchasing with limited design, evaluation and development duties. When one looks at the relative experience between the 1980-86 period to that of the 1986-1994 period, appellant's engineering experience is far more attuned to the demands of a structural engineer in the latter time period than the former.

From the totality of appellant's experience, therefore, the Board could rightly be concerned about appellant's lack of ten years' engineering experience of working with lateral forces. Since lateral forces are a necessary (and major) component of structural engineering criteria in Arizona, appellant is required to demonstrate his proficiency in the area of lateral forces over a ten year period in order to comply with the experience requirements that the Board would consider when an applicant's reciprocity application is evaluated.

The Board's conclusion that appellant does not meet the experience requirements to be registered in Arizona without examination was neither arbitrary nor capricious. Reasonable doubt exists about appellant's structural engineering experience over a ten year period such that appellant has not demonstrated, by substantial evidence, that he is entitled to registration as a structural engineer without examination at this time.

Accordingly, based on applicant's lack of demonstrated structural engineering experience over a ten year period, ARS, §32-126 A. (3) is not applicable to appellant's application for registration and therefore, your undersigned recommends that appellant's appeal be denied.

This matter came on for hearing on October 19, 1995 in Phoenix, Arizona. The purpose of the hearing was to consider the Board's refusal to grant registration to All Takeri as a civil engineer. Respondent, All Takeri, was present in person and was represented by Ronald Carnichael, Attorney at Law. The Board was represented by Willow-Fawn Kemp, Assistant Attorney General.

Having heard the testimony of the witnesses, having read and considered the exhibits offered by the parties and admitted into evidence, having heard argument of the parties and being fully advised in the premises, the undersigned hearing officer now submits the following findings of fact, conclusions of law and recommendation to the Arizona State Board of Technical Registration.

ARIZONA STATE BOARD OF TECHNICAL REGISTRATION

In the Matter of)
 ALI ZAKERI) HEARING OFFICER'S FINDINGS Respondent.) OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW ) AND RECOMMENDATION

This matter came on for hearing on October 19, 1995 in Phoenix, Arizona. The purpose of the hearing was to consider the Board's refusal to grant registration to Ali Zakeri as a civil engineer. Respondent, Ali Zakeri, was present in person and was represented by Ronald Carmichael, Attorney at Law. The Board was represented by Willow-Fawn Kemp, Assistant Attorney General.

Having heard the testimony of the witnesses, having read and considered the exhibits offered by the parties and admitted into evidence, having heard argument of the parties and being fully advised in the premises, the undersigned hearing officer now submits the following findings of fact, conclusions of law and recommendation to the Arizona State Board of Technical Registration.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Respondent sat for the NCEES professional exam in April 1994 in order to become registered as a civil engineer and he obtained a converted score of 76, a score sufficient to allow registration as a civil engineer in this State.

2. As part of the scoring of Respondent's examination, NCEES noted similarities in the calculations between Respondent's solution to two problems on the examination and the solutions to those same two problems offered by the candidate seated to Respondent's immediate left during the examination. NCEES asked the Board to investigate the situation and report to NCEES.

3. The Board then contacted one Peter Fox, an Arizona State University professor in the College of Engineering, for the purpose of reviewing both Respondent's and the other candidate's test booklets to determine whether either of the candidates had copied answers from the other's test.

4. Fox compared the test solutions for problems #121 and #211 which both of the candidates completed in the April 1994 examination. After reviewing the solutions, Fox found "distinct trends that indicate cheating". In particular, as to problem #121, Fox found that Respondent's statement at the end of the solution was materially the same as the other candidate's except for an illogical statement made by Respondent in using the word "contaminating" rather than "contributing" in the statement, Fox found that five calculations made by Respondent included values that weren't supported by the calculations made by Respondent and Fox found that the methodologies used to solve the problem were the same although several different methodologies were available for the problem's solution. As to problem #211, Fox found that the methods of calculation were almost identical between the candidates and that Respondent had included values in his calculations that were not supported by the calculations.

5. Fox also compared the solutions to problem #124 which each candidate completed and determined that the two candidates arrived at their solutions independently.

6. Fox also made a comparison of the answers given by the candidates in the afternoon multiple choice examination and he determined that Respondent and the other candidate had identical answers to all of the questions, that Respondent and the other candidate had the same answers wrong and right and he concluded that it was "very unusual" for two candidates to have the same right and wrong answers on a multiple choice examination.

7. Based on his comparison of the examinations and his analysis of the solutions, Fox concluded that Respondent engaged in "blatant" cheating.

8. As a result of Fox' conclusions, the Board voted to deny Respondent his registration as a civil engineer.

9. Respondent requested a hearing into the Board's denial and a hearing was set for October 19, 1995 at which time Respondent appeared, together with counsel.

10. At the hearing, testimony was adduced to show that, in October 1992, Respondent sat for the civil engineering examination in Arizona and he received a converted score of 61.

11. At the hearing, testimony was adduced to show that, in October 1993, Respondent sat for the civil engineering examination in Arizona and he received a converted score of 64.

12. At the hearing, testimony was adduced to show that Respondent sat for the civil engineering examination in California in 1991 but that his examination was not graded as Respondent was removed from the examination room during the examination and his examination was confiscated because a proctor believed that Respondent was looking at another candidate's examination.

13. At the hearing, Respondent testified that his preparation for the April 1994 examination in Arizona consisted of reviewing the review course books that he had obtained from earlier review courses he had taken in 1991 and in 1992.

14. At the hearing, Respondent testified that, on the day after sitting for the professional civil engineering examination in April 1994, he sat for the seismic portion of the engineering examination in California.

15. At the hearing, Respondent testified that, in preparation for the seismic portion of the engineering examination he took in April 1994, he attended a three month review course.

16. At the hearing, Respondent testified that he brought his review manuals to the April 1994 professional civil engineering examination in Arizona and that he selected four questions from the available group of questions based on his ability to solve those questions from the review manuals.

17. At the hearing, Respondent testified that, in completing his solutions to the questions he selected in the April 1994 examination, he based his solutions on information he had received from review courses which instructed him to "follow your steps and show your complete work" and that showing the essential steps and from where reference numbers were derived was more important than obtaining the correct number for any particular solution.

18. At the hearing, Respondent testified that he did not know the candidate seated to his immediate left during the April 1994 Arizona professional civil engineering examination.

19. There is no evidence in the record of this matter to show that Respondent based his solution to either problem #121 or #211 on any sample problem found in any review course manuals or that Respondent based his solution on any references found in any review course manuals.

1. This matter is within the jurisdiction of the Arizona State Board of Technical Registration pursuant to ARS, §32-101 et. seq., and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

2. Respondent's actions during the April 1994 professional civil engineer's examination conducted in Arizona, whereby Respondent, in completing his solutions to two of the questions he selected in the examination, namely #121 and #211, failed to base his solutions to those questions on sample problems he obtained from any review course manual, where he failed to base his solution on instructions provided to him in review courses to "follow your steps and show your complete work" and where he failed to base his solution on a showing of the essential steps and from where reference numbers were derived, whereby a review of Respondent's solutions, compared to the solutions provided by the candidate who was seated to his immediate left during the examination, showed identity of values in Respondent's solutions without corresponding calculations, which caused the reviewer to determine that Respondent engaged in "blatant cheating", shows that Respondent has not met the requirements to be considered a person of good moral character, as defined in A.A.C. R4-30-101 9 (d) which therefore constitutes a violation of ARS, §32-122.01 A. (1) such as to disqualify Respondent from obtaining registration as an engineer in the State of Arizona.

3. Without statistical evidence showing deviations caused by Respondent's multiple choice answers, as compared to the answers given by the candidate seated to his immediate left, there is insufficient evidence in the record of this matter on which to conclude that Respondent obtained his answers on the multiple choice portion of the examination in any improper or illicit manner.

4. Ali Zakeri is not entitled to be registered as a civil engineer in the State of Arizona.

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that the Board deny Respondent's registration as a civil engineer in the State of Arizona.

The standard and quantum of proof for settling Respondent's entitlement to civil engineer registration depends on the preponderance of evidence, which establishes the probability of cheating as either more or less likely. Even though the terms "fraud" and "dishonesty" are the terms of moral conduct which could disqualify Respondent from receiving his registration, the Board's decision rests on the Administrative Procedures Act which requires a showing by "substantial evidence" that Respondent is not entitled to be registered as a civil engineer.

The courts have held a preponderance of the evidence to mean the following:

. . . proof is sufficient to constitute a preponderance when taken as a whole, it shows that the act to be proven is more probable than not." Duncan v. Dept. of Public Safety, 468 So.2d 797 (La. 1985).

Thus, where the evidence is approximately evenly matched, this preponderance test has not been met. The Arizona courts have stated the matter this way:

Preponderance of the evidence . . . requires something more than probabilities. This standard requires that the proof be such that the state of mind of a person of reasonable caution be satisfied and convinced of the truth of the matter."

Matter of Appeal in Maricopa County Juvenile Court, 138 Ariz. 305, 674 P.2d 859 (1983).

Clear and convincing evidence is evidence which is stronger than a preponderance of the evidence and which is unmistakable and free from serious or substantial doubt. Dahman v. Ford Leasing Development Co., 492 P.2d 875 (Colo. 1972). As expressed by the Arizona courts:

Clear and convincing evidence is that which may persuade that the truth of the contention is 'highly probable.' Matter of Neville, 147 Ariz. 106, 708 P.2d 1297 (1985).

In the instant case, the hearing outcome may be dependent on which standard of proof is applied to these facts. In determining which standard of proof should be applied in considering Respondent's case, regard must be given to the fact that there are allegations of fraud and dishonesty the standard of proof for which in Arizona civil actions, is by clear and convincing evidence. Tovrea Land & Cattle Co. v. Linsenmeyer, 100 Ariz. 107, 412 P.2d 47 (1966); Klinger v. Hummel, 11 Ariz.App. 356, 464 P.2d 676 (1970). In the instant matter, however, the Board is not confronted with a civil action, but rather with an administrative action, and the ultimate question of law then becomes whether the same standard should be applicable to administrative adjudications.

As noted in 2 Am.Jur.2d Administrative Law, Section 392, "Degree of Proof":

As a general rule, the comparative degree of proof by which a case must be established is the same before an administrative tribunal as in a judicial proceeding -- that is, a preponderance of the evidence In passing, the Court of Appeals expressly noted that its holding was limited to

The same dictum is also found to some extent in the case law. See, for example, Samuel J. Lansberry, Inc. v. PUC, 578 A.2d 600 (Pa. 1990) stating: "It is clear, on the other hand, that the degree of proof required to establish a case before an administrative tribunal is the same degree of proof used in most civil proceedings, i.e., a preponderance of the evidence."

A line of federal cases addresses the standard of proof issue squarely. In Collins Sec. Corp. v. SEC, 562 F.2d 820 (D.C. Cir. 1977), the Securities and Exchange Commission had made a determination based on a preponderance of the evidence that Collins Securities Corporation had violated various antifraud provisions of the federal securities laws. On appeal, the case was reversed, the Court of Appeals finding that a clear and convincing standard was required, based on the following two elements: (1) the fact that it was a fraud case, and (2) the fact that the sanction included deprivation of livelihood. In arriving at this conclusion, the Court of Appeals noted that the United States Supreme Court had required "clear, unequivocal and convincing" evidence in deportation proceedings, and "clear and convincing" in recovery for libel of a public official.

Likewise, the Court of Appeals had previously used a "clear and convincing" standard for matters dealing with disbarment or suspension of attorneys. In passing, the Court of Appeals expressly noted that its holding was limited to cases where both of the foregoing elements were present.

The Collins holding was extended in Sea Island Broadcasting Corp. v. F.C.C., 627 F.2d 240 (D.C. Cir. 1980), to the revocation of a broadcasting license by the Federal Communications Commission. Once again, the Court of Appeals pointed out that this standard would not apply to revocation proceedings where no loss of livelihood is involved, such as the revocation of amateur licenses¹.

The court went on to hold that a preponderance of the evidence is the proper standard in adjudicating oil and gas leases, after considering various areas where a higher standard has been imposed, such as potential deprivation of liberty, citizenship, parental rights, deportation, loss of livelihood (citing Sea Island Broadcasting), and fraud coupled with possible heavy sanctions including loss of livelihood (citing Collins Security Corporation).

However, in Steadman v. SEC, 450 U.S. 91, 101 S.Ct. 999, 67 L.Ed.2d 69 (1981), the United States Supreme Court effectively eviscerated Collins Security Corporation by _____ shall be grounds for reversing

¹A good discussion of these, and other, cases, is found in Bender v. Clark, 744 F.2d 1424 (10th Cir. 1984), in which the Tenth Circuit held: "The traditional preponderance standard must be applied unless the type of case and the sanctions or hardship imposed require a higher standard."

holding that preponderance of the evidence was the appropriate standard of proof to be applied in a disciplinary proceeding brought by the Securities and Exchange Commission under the federal antifraud provisions. In reaching this conclusion, the Supreme Court found that the term "substantial evidence" in the federal Administrative Procedures Act establishes the traditional preponderance of the evidence standard of proof. The Court reached this conclusion based on the legislative history and the language of the statute, but expressly reserved the right to determine the correct standard judicially where there was no congressional intent evidenced.

Prior to the pronouncements of the Supreme Court, application of the rules set forth in these federal cases would seem to suggest a standard of proof requiring clear and convincing evidence in this appeal, in the absence of statutory considerations. Referring to the Arizona Administrative Procedures Act, ARS §41-1062(A), however, it is noted that: "invokes the clear and convincing standard, is it not logical that allegations of criminal wrongdoing in an administrative... Neither the manner of conducting the reasonable hearing nor the failure to adhere to the... for example, rules of evidence required in judicial... proceedings shall be grounds for reversing any administrative decision or order providing the evidence supporting such decision or order is substantial, reliable, and probative. [Emphasis added]

As can be seen, the Arizona statute contains the identical requirement of substantial evidence as the Federal Administrative Procedures Act. Since the United States Supreme Court has held that substantial evidence mandates a preponderance of the evidence standard under the Federal Administrative Procedures Act, then the Arizona Administrative Procedures Act would likewise mandate a preponderance standard in all administrative adjudications conducted pursuant to it. Since the instant adjudication was conducted pursuant to the Act, the correct standard of proof must perforce be preponderance of the evidence.

Although it might at first seem troublesome to utilize a different standard of proof in civil and administrative actions, further consideration confirms the result. For example, if allegations of fraud in an administrative hearing were to invoke the clear and convincing standard, is it not logical that allegations of criminal wrongdoing in an administrative hearing would require proof beyond a reasonable doubt? Clearly, this is not the case. See for example, Keller v. Kentucky Alcoholic Beverage Control Bd., 130 S.W. 821 (1939):

A proceeding to revoke a license for breach of a condition of its issuance is a civil one before an independent tribunal. Even though the charge is the violation of a penal law it does not require that the evidence establish guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

In accord, Cittadino v. Department of Police, 558 So.2d 1311 (La.App. 1990).

Thus, we are dealing here with an administrative proceeding and the basis of the underlying allegations is irrelevant. Where there is an administrative remedy created by law with a different standard of proof as Arizona has done by enacting the Administrative Procedures Act, the common law standard for fraud requiring proof that is clear and convincing is simply not applicable² to consideration of whether Respondent should receive registration in the State of Arizona.

Respondent argues that, notwithstanding the curious circumstantial evidence that aroused suspicions on the part of NCEES about possible cheating during the April 1994 civil engineering examination, there is no reason to believe that the similarities in results on two questions of that test amounted to cheating. He suggests that there is an insufficient basis for denying registration to him and he asks that the Board's Order of Denial be reversed.

²Coincidentally, ARS §13-2314 (J), sets a preponderance standard for civil racketeering, including fraud.

Respondent contends that he would not have confidence in a stranger's answers to accept his solutions to the two questions, that he was knowledgeable about the material and had no reason to borrow values from other candidates' answers, that he would never have been enticed to cheat while knowing that test officials were observing him, that his character and integrity belies any suggestion of cheating and, if similarities occurred with respect to the solutions to two questions of the examination, the coincidences should not lead the Board to conclude that he should be disqualified from registration.

Respondent questions the validity of the conclusions reached by Dr. Fox on his cheating analysis and postulates that Fox is incapable of determining cheating simply by comparing the two examination solutions side by side. Furthermore, Respondent questions Fox' ability to detect cheating.

Your undersigned believes that the Fox analysis is the prima facie evidence to support the conclusions that Respondent engaged in "fraud" and "dishonesty" in connection with the April 1994 professional civil engineering examination such as to support the Board's order denying him registration, notwithstanding receipt of a score sufficient to obtain registration. The prima facie evidence relies on inconsistencies in Respondent's solutions to the two problems, arbitrary values being placed in the solutions, commonality of approach to solving the problems and no evidence of independent thought. Once that prima facie case is established, the obligation to rebut that conclusion is placed on Respondent to show equal or better reasons not to accept the prima facie evidence. In this case, such rebuttal is lacking.

Respondent had the opportunity to copy information from the neighbor's examination as the candidates were seated in close proximation to each other. The existence of values on both candidates' solutions on two questions of the examination is more than coincidence when there are no calculations on Respondent's solution to support the existence of those values. Furthermore, the existence of such values on Respondent's examination without such calculations to support them is inconsistent with the advice and admonitions given to Respondent in review courses.

Equally important to a showing that no rebuttal has been provided is the competition between this civil engineering examination and the seismic examination that Respondent was taking on the following day. Since Respondent completed a review course for the seismic exam but did not take a review course for the civil engineering examination, one may infer that Respondent was inadequately prepared for the civil engineering examination such as to impel him to engage in shortcut methods of seeking solutions to two of the problems to try to insure a passing score. In fact, Respondent was not able to demonstrate where he consulted any similar problem in the review manuals that he could have used during the examination to obtain a solution or to support the values he inserted in each problem.

The variation of Respondent's score in the April 1994 examination also stands in distinction to two earlier examination tries when he scored 61 and 64. The 19% variation in score between the 64 and 76 scores, without undertaking a review course, is circumstantial evidence that the 76 score was not obtained legitimately. Also, the events during the 1991 California examination where Respondent's paper was taken from him because of suspected eavesdropping on another candidate's examination is further circumstantial evidence that negates Respondent's claims of integrity.

Respondent has not provided a sufficient rationale to overcome the prima facie evidence that suggests cheating on the April 1994 examination. Respondent has not been able to demonstrate alternate hypotheses for the conclusions reached by Fox, Respondent was unable to present independent evidence to support the calculations and values to arrive at his solutions and Respondent's own testimony belies the methodology shown in problems #121 and #211 of failing to show all steps to arrive at numbers on which he intended to rely for his solutions. As such, the analysis and conclusions of Dr. Fox must stand as the preponderance of evidence in this matter. Accordingly, Respondent has not shown himself to be a person of good moral character and is therefore not entitled to be registered in Arizona. For these reasons, your undersigned recommends that the Board confirm its decision not to register Ali Zakeri in the State of Arizona.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD J. MERKOW
Hearing Officer

December 20, 1995

1. CALL TO ORDER

Meeting was called to order at 9 A.M.

2. ROLL CALL

- Present:
- Dennis Gerlach, Vice Chairman
 - Michael Miller, Member
 - Dwight Busby, Member
 - James Barber, Member
 - Michael Goodwin, Member
 - Lori Woods, Member
 - LaVern Douglas, Deputy Director

3. DISCUSSION AND ACTION - EVALUATION COMMITTEE REPORT

Mr. Busby moved to accept evaluation committee's report. Mr. Parke seconded. MOTION CARRIED.

4. DISCUSSION AND ACTION - SEPTEMBER 1995 GEOLOGIST IN-TRAINING, PROFESSIONAL GEOLOGY AND PROFESSIONAL GEOLOGICAL ENGINEER RESULTS

Mr. Barber moved to accept exam results. Mr. Busby seconded. MOTION CARRIED.

5. DISCUSSION AND ACTION - GRANT LIST

Mr. Barber moved to grant the following registrations: Architect 29753 thru 29766, Chemical Engineer 29767, Civil Engineer 29768 thru 29791, Electrical Engineer 29792 thru 29796, Environmental Engineer 29797, Fire Protection Engineer 29798, Mechanical Engineer 29799 thru 29811, Mining Engineer 29812, Structural Engineer 29813 thru 29817, Geologist 29818, 29819 & 29821 thru 29834, Geological Engineer 29820, Architect in-training 06458, Engineer in-training 06459 thru 06461, and Geologist in-training 06462 thru 06470. Mr. Busby seconded. MOTION CARRIED.

6. DISCUSSION AND ACTION - RESULTS OF REGRADE OF APRIL 1995 ENGINEER EXAMINATION

A. Mr. Busby moved to accept Douglas R. Henry's regrade granting him registration

#29835. Ms. Woods seconded. MOTION CARRIED.

B. Mr. Busby moved to accept Vahik Haddadian's regrade which remains a fail. Ms. Woods seconded. MOTION CARRIED.

C. Mr. Busby moved to accept Paul Efron's regrade granting him registration #29836. Mr. Goodwin seconded. MOTION CARRIED.

7. DISCUSSION AND ACTION - EVALUATION OF APPLICANTS

A. Mr. Busby moved to accept Richard Sloan's work experience under 32-122.01E and grant registration #29837. Mr. Barber seconded. MOTION CARRIED.

B. Mr. Busby moved to accept Jonathan Thomsic's work experience and grant registration #29838. MOTION CARRIED.

8. ADJOURNMENT

Mr. Barber motioned for adjournment. Mr. Busby seconded.
